By the Britannia.

The Britannia arrived at Boston on Suntary night last. She left Liverpool on the 22d April. Through the attentive kindness of J. H. Whitconn, Esq., Tremont House, Boston, we have a copy of the Liverpool Mail of the 22d ult., from whose General Summary we take the following:

The chief interest in the Parliamentary pro-perverted into a means of limiting ordinary and fair discussion. Lord John Russell so far gave way as to consent that this new folony law shall be temporary only, its operation being limited to be temporary only, its operation being limited to two years.

The accounts from Ireland partake of much the same character as those last recorded. It appears that the agents of Messrs, Mitchell, Obrien, and the rest of the insurrectionists, are busily employed through the country in encouraging the delusion which has caused a run on the savings' banks. The money drawn is immediately converted into gold, so that a run on the banks is a consequence of that on the savings' banks. The result of this is naturally a contraction of their issues by the former establishments, and this will probably be followed by the failure of many who will be deprived of their usual accommodation.

No time has been lost in proceeding to bring to trial the parties charged with sedition.

From the Continent the news continues to be of the most exciting kind. In Paris on Sunday last, an immense assemblage of the trades of Paris took place in the Champ de Mars. Some accounts estimate the number present at 150-000. The object was said to be to declare in favor of the organisation of labor, and against M. Marrast, one of the members of the Provisional Government. In the course of the day the hotels of the members of the Provisional Government received troops for the protection of the ministers, and a collision was expected, but the hotels of the members of the Provisional Government received troops for the protection of the ministers, and a collision was expected, but the whole passed off quietly. The real object of the demonstration was to overawe the Government, and place Communism in a position of ascendency. The National Guard, consequently, were called out, and mustered to the number of decree, dated the 11th of April, ordering that. ernment, were observed to be the most zealous in support of order. They were harangued by M.

Lunartine from the top of the steps in front of the Hotel de Ville, and they replied with enthusiasm. The would-be disturbers of the peace

Affairs in Italy are not quite so cheerful as might be wished, but, in a political sense, are far from discouraging. A portion of the Sardinian and Austrian troops have met, in which victory declared itself in favor of the fermer.—

The loss of life was great, and about 2,000 prisoners remained in the hands of the Italian army. Whether Radetsky will be able to hold his ground must depend very much upon the extent to which the Government of Vienna can supply him with re-inforcements. Present appearances indicate that he will receive but little material

The Germans are working out, with uncommon determination of purpose, and with the calmness which becomes an intelligent people, their political freedom. King Frederick William seems to be of small account in their eyes. GERMANY.

The London Chronicle of the 21st has the following upon the state of Germany:

There is a lull in the interest in the internal affairs of Germany, which will probably not be interrupted before the general elections. The attempt at an insurrection in Baden, with the election of federal representatives nominated by his own Diet, and to consent that they should be elected by the whole people. Germany will probably possess institutions second to none in Europe for freedom and stability.

We regret to state that intelligence has reached us of the regular organization of the Chartist forces in Scotland. A public meeting had been held at Aberdeen, for the purpose of electing a delegate to the "National Couvention," and measures were adopted for the enrolument of volunteers. After the public meeting, about 1000 persons adjourned to the Union hall Five hundred members were enrolled as a "National Guard;" and after some correspondence with Birmingham, respecting the supply of arms, had been read, it was resolved, that a gun and a bayonet should be ordered for each member forthwith.

GERMANY.

The Grand Jury at Dublin, on the 15th, brought in bills of indictment against Messrs, Mitchel, O'Brien, and Meagher, charging them with "seditious practices tending to the disturbance of the public peace." The correspondent of the London Morning Chronicle, who is very hostile to the Irish, has the following:

DOUBLIN, April 19.—The plea of not guilty and the general issue, filed yesterday on behalf of Mr Smith O'Brien, clears away all obstacles that might otherwise prevent a trial during the sittings after the present term. It is understood character, tendencies and results of War, and that might otherwise prevent a trial during the sittings after the present term. It is understood that similar pleas will be, if they are not already, filed by Mr. Mitchel and Mr Meagher.

Da. Foord, Dear Sir: — very cheerfully give my certificate for your Pectoral Syrap, through your Agents in Rome, Messrs, Dudley & Peck. My wile has been troubled with a severe cough for some years, and in the meantime has tried various medicines of repute. Last fall her cough increased and I felt very much alarmed about her. I was induced to try your Syrap, and am happy to say, that two bottles entirely cured her cough, and improved her general health. I would recommend it to all as a medicine of great worth.

Dear Sir:—Having used, personally, and in my farmily, two or three bottles of your Pectoral Syrup, I leel myself authorized, indeed, bound in duty, to speak in high terms of the article. For hourseness, which with me, as a public speaker, has been a most formidable difficulty, I have never found anything like it—In diseases of the Langs, and other parts of the vocal organs, its effects are most grateful and salutary. Its remarkable pultableness—being very little more offensive than pure honey, I consider one of its smallest recommendations.
